My Agency is looking for a strong candidate for a daily data entry and reporting position. You must understand and use Google Sheets/Forms/Docs.

This is a copy/paste job, with the ability to earn promotions over time with our company. The job is simple: You will be provided 1000 company names and you are required to search their Facebook page website and contact number, copy them and paste into an Excel sheet. You need to be quick at copy/pasting information from one place to another, and you need to be smart and organize the date clearly and effectively. We will give you instructions and guides. You have to be focused, never make mistakes, and keep moving during your entire working.

You need to have fluent English skills so we can communicate accordingly, and be a creative problem solver who can be trusted with honor.

Question no.1: Break down the above project into smaller segments (milestones). You'll be paid for milestones as they are completed and approved.

Milestone	Budget	Deliverable	Duration

Question No.4: What type of tasks are required to be performed for the above project?

Data entry and Reporting.

Task 2: You're required to search for a job-post related to your niche/skill from any freelance platform and write a bid proposal. Make sure to cover all 7 effective biding points while composing your proposal/cover letter.

Skilled graphic designer in need for a website banner and product image edits

Graphic Design
Posted 23 hours ago

Hi,

Im looking for someone creative who has alot of experience editing photos.

What I need help with right now is the following:

- Help to edit my product image. I sell my product in 6 different colours and I want the original photo to be edited and saved into 6 seperate images while you just edit the colour of my product.

- I also want help do design a website banner for my homepage.

I have photos to showcase what I mean so its gonna be easy to understand what needs to be done.

Im looking for someone who I can work with long term with images designs. Im growing my brand right now and will need alot of edits in the near future.

Want to be apart of my team? Have steady, small, easy jobs coming in regularly?

Include the word blue somewhere in your application and reply with some of your previous work.

Thank you!

Hello,

Thanks for seeing my response to your project. I have more than 5 years of experience in graphics designing and photo editing. I have gone through your project description and I will edit your product image into 6 different colors according to your requirements and design a perfect banner for your website. I am ready to design some free samples for you, so you can check the quality of my work. I am available 40 hours per week with 24/7 support. My favorite color is BLUE.

So, place your order with confidence, I assure you would love my work.
My sample work is attached, also here is my portfolio link:
